

Bargains In Jewelry

We rarely ever use the word "bargain" in connection with jewelry. However, in the present case there is no other word that embraces what we have to offer.

From our immense Spring and Summer business we had left numerous odd pieces of jewelry. As a general rule, these articles are only one of a kind and the prices at which they are being offered are remarkably low. If you would learn what the word "bargain" really means as applied to jewelry, come and see what we are now offering.

SUDDEN DEATHS IN LAS CRUCES

Small Fire Demonstrates the Force of the New Water System.

Las Cruces, N. M., June 29.—Two deaths occurred in Las Cruces unexpectedly today. S. Roberts, aged 37, bookkeeper for the Bascom-French company, dropped dead early today as he was dressing to go to his work. He leaves a wife and one child, and came here as a health seeker from Houston, La. Col. Enoch May, aged 85, died at 3 o'clock this morning. He had been sick for two weeks, but had not been considered seriously ill. He had been living in the valley for 15 years and came here from California. Relatives in San Francisco and Riverside, Calif., survive him. He had no relatives here.

The first opportunity to test the force of the city water supply was a smart little blaze on Main street Friday afternoon, when the Merchants' cafe caught fire in the kitchen through an explosion of gas and soot in the flue, which forced the flames out the front of the range and caught the curtain at the rear window. Before the proprietor could get to the window the flames had reached the canvas ceiling and the whole rear room was in flames.

The new fire wagon with a reel of new hose was located at the rear of Manasse Bros. store and was soon brought to the scene of the fire, where the hose was connected to the hydrant in front of the First State bank and the force of the water was sufficient to give two strong men all they could do handle the nozzle.

As soon as the water was directed into the rear door of the restaurant, dishes and chairs began raining out of the front door, and the water not only put out the fire in quick order, but cleared the building of everything movable. The pressure was variously estimated at 75 to 80 pounds to the square inch.

The damage to the building, owned by Sam Bean and covered by insurance, was slight. The damage to the restaurant would figure about $200.
